

A friend once said,
“Play songs until they’re empty”
And I said, “Sing songs until your voice has Traced every pathway...
Until they’re full
Play them and sing them Until you’re fully Spacious- and open-hearted.”
“Live life until you’ve coursed every byway
flowed every river
explored inner and outer landscapes
until the echo feels full
and then grows dim,
highlighting
everything.”
