

I need the smoke and I need the rain I need the sunshine and I need the pain molding and scorching

heating and torching
loving and resting
sleeping and testing
laughing and crying
living and dying
it's the beauty that surrounds us

Bowing deeply
To those who live with full intensity
And to the people and places we love that shape us

kelly ann ilseman