

Opening closer
Holding looser
Dying to live
Living to die
Making a fortune
On somebody else's sky

Gratefully blessed
Sunshine warms fears
A leaf petal cup
holding your tears

Cat got my tongue
Or rather
Sunshine got stung
By the bee
That's for me
On your knees
Singing softly
Humming a tune
Vibrating in the heart room
Sun warm
Not forlorn
Sadness and mourn
Life and death
A circle of one
Torn asunder,
Feeling left out
Like a third wheel
Reactive beyond
The practices I've learned
How to find space
Breathe in this place
Earth grace
Make a face
Silly tunes
In your room
Earthquake boom
Jack and June
Why bother
Never harder
Want to be gracious
Can't find my place
Accept it like an ace
What the heck?
Forsaking this place

Going through the motions
Monotone notions
Pre-programmed oceans
Everybody in motion
Gotta get the doshen
Smoke your daily potion
Don't know why I'm in it
Can seem to fit it
Want the spotlight
Just can't seem to shine right
Humbly giving others limelight
like a shadow, cast away
Feeling cared for Sentiments are words
Bonds built
Deeper than blood
Heart's cradle Kidney palace
Protection from my own shit
waddle and muck
So yuck
Venom and spewing
Anger and brewing
Causing a ruckus
Adrenaline
Fight - flight
Searching for a high light,
A hipster fit
Like a sad flick
Outdated before it began
Run over like a steam motor Destruction
is in my DNA Can't I just Float away
On a cloudy day
Razzle dazzle ding dong
Sing me a new song
Read me a book
Love your look

Feb 10, 2020
kelly ann ilseman